PRINCESS SALM SALM.

End of a Remarkable Life.

The circus rider who rose to the dignity of a princess, is dead. The Princess Salm Salm, whose career had about it a romantic flavor, died last month. The announcement is made in an English paper, but where the "end event" occurred is not recorded. The Princess Salm Salm was born Christmas morning, 1840, of poor but honest parents. Her father was in the "profession," and eighteen years ago his daughter, under the name of Agnes Le Clerq, was the most devoted companion in his country. On August 30, 1858, she married Prince Felix Constantine Alexander John Neppomucene Salm Salm, born in 1838. Him she accompanied to Mexico, where he served as general, aide-de-camp and chief of the household of Maximilian. They returned to Europe after the downfall of the Mexican empire, where the princess received the order of San Carlos. Prince Felix then became a major in the Prussian grenadiers of the guard, and was killed August 18, 1870, at the breaking out of the war with France. His widow married two years ago a wealthy gentleman named Henao, who was before the courts a few months ago vainly endeavoring to secure release from his engagements to settle upon her a certain dower, and to make her an annual allowance, his complaint being that she had conspired from him the fact that she was largely in debt. In 1875 she published parts of her own and her husband's diaries kept in Mexico, and also an interesting volume entitled "Ten Years of My Life."

A Story of a Trail.

She was a tall, stout individual, and sprang out of the wagon as lightly as a spring chicken after a grasshopper. He was a little, withered, dried-up wretch, and followed slowly, bringing a basket of eggs with him. They entered one of our stores, and she asked, "What are you givin' for eggs?"

"Eight cents," was the reply of the counter-jumper.

"Well, here are three dozen," said the fat party, "and I'll take it into calico."

"But I want some yarn to mend my socks," put in the old man.

"The weather is warm," replied the fat party, "and you can go without socks."

"But my boots hurt my feet," insisted the man.

"Go barefooted," said she, rather sharply. Then turning to the clerk she changed her tone and remarked: "Young man, please count me out the eggs, and give me four yards of calico to match this ere dress."

"But—" the old man was going to continue, when she raised her huge index finger and said: "Henry Winter Davis Springs, them 'ere eggs are mine, them hens what laid 'em are mine; the corn what fed 'em was mine, and I'm going to have a trail on this 'ere dress as long as Betsy Gowen's if every foot on your feet turn into gumbies. Now shut. And you, youngster, yank off four yards of that 'ere calico, or you will hear a bumble bee a-buzzin'."

The old man shut, and the clerk yanked off the calico.

The Saloon-Keeper's Cat.

The Reno (Nevada) Gazette has found a cat with the jim-jams, and tells of its exploits with but ill-concealed envy, as follows: "The dissipated animal is merely a kitten, but is an advanced drunkard. It learned to drink the drippings which fall into the trough under the faucets of the best kegs, and, after remaining for several weeks in a state of happy twilight, has now blossomed into a fit of the delirium horraus. The animal cuts up all sorts of extraordinary pranks—flying over chairs, rolling about on the floor, bounding into the street, and bling over its head and chasing its own tail by the half hour. When pesty wearies of these performances, she trots to the trough and keeps up the drunk. The cat is not at all dangerous, seeming to be in the best of humor and enjoying its sinful course immensely. Gambrians are awfully proud of that cat."

Everyday Talk Wins.

From the Detroit Free Press.

Yesterday when the black clouds gathered in the north and betokened the coming of a thunder storm, a citizen who was coming down on a Jefferson avenue car remarked to an elderly man beside him:

"A storm is portending."
 "Hey?" inquired the other.
 "I say there are tokens of a storm," continued the first.

"Hey?" was the brisk inquiry again.
 "Appearances indicate a storm," exclaimed the citizen, a trifle embarrassed.
 "Hey? What do you say about indecates?" queried the other.

"There's going to be a thunder-storm!" shouted the citizen, dropping his big words all of a sudden.

"Ah! Now I understand," said the old man, "going to be a thunder-storm. Well, what do you want me to do about it?"

(George Washington Revised.)

"George, did you chop down the cherry-tree?"
 "What do you say?"
 "Did you chop down that tree?"
 "Ask me no questions and I'll tell you no lies."

"George, you have a hatchet?"
 "So's a hen."
 "You chopped down that tree?"
 "Didn't."

"Young man, comere to me."
 "What do you want?"
 "I play hide and seek."
 "So the old man went out to seek the hide."

The scene which ensued in the woodshed beggars description. It was touching in the extreme.

Prices in 1825.

From the Denison (Ohio) Review.

Reading recently the biography of Salmon P. Chase, by Schuchers, we came upon a statement of current prices in Ohio, in 1825. The uncle of Secretary Chase was an Episcopal bishop, of the diocese of Ohio, and Salmon P. Chase related him as a youth to finish his education.

Wheat that year brought 25 cents a bushel and corn 15 cents, while it carried 25 cents to pay the postage on a letter it carried over 100 miles. The income of Bishop Chase, as a bishop did not quite pay his official postage. It is well enough when any one grumbles about "good old times," and see what they were. The humblest citizen has more comforts about him to-day than the rich had fifty years ago, before the age of railroads.

—The sun don't seem to give a rush whether men sweat or not—except a rush of blood to the head.
—Mr. J. W. Kimball and wife, son, and wife's mother, have been spending a few days at Geneva Lake.

—Since the last grand capture of tramps in Beloit, that city is said to have been wholly free from them.
—The Janesville Guards are ordered to meet at the Armory, over Clow's resper works, at 8 o'clock this evening.

—Burr Robbins will be at Afton, Iowa, August 9; at Ayre the 10th; at Bedford the 12th, and at Clarinda the 13th.

—A. O. Wilson, of the Times, has begun his task of taking the school census, his work commencing with the First ward.
—The telephonic strings seem to have followed the red ribbons out into the undiscovered country from whose bourn no traveler returns.

—Good enough excuse for being out so late. Been to the caucus, you know, my dear—but care should be taken that the breath isn't too strong.

—A formal call has been extended from a Milwaukee church to Rev. Dr. Hodge, but it is doubtful whether he will accept the proffered pastorate.

—Mr. J. O. Gordon, the United States Revenue Collector, who takes the place of A. H. Main, who resigned, is in the city to-day on official business.

—The coming county fair promises to be a grand success. No one should fail to hear General Shields' address, which is a prominent feature of the programme.
—It will look queer enough to see the militia turn out for parade, with only caps and blouses for a uniform. They ought to be more modest and get more clothes.

—The Shimeal-Fonda shooting scrape is set for examination to-morrow, before Justice Balch, and will not probably be postponed further, as Fonda is said to be nearly recovered.

—A fine little thunder storm sprinkled the streets this noon. It was enjoyed by all except those who had on dusts, and whose umbrellas were left at home out of the wet.

—The veterans met last evening and had an informal talk. They concluded to muster in one week from next Saturday night. It is probable that they will adopt the cap and blouse for a uniform.

—Frank L. Tappan, who is adding many new attractions to his Janesville Museum, has procured a perfectly white heron, which was shot near the island. It is a beautiful one, and decidedly rare in these parts.

—Dennis Guernsey, who formerly lived in this city, has been recently elected Mayor of Dayton, Washington territory, that place having recently become a city. Mayor Guernsey sounds well, but it is no more than he deserves.

—Rev. Mr. Norcross, of Deadwood, is in the city visiting his brother, Mayor Norcross. Mr. Norcross has been in Deadwood for some years, and being the only minister there has had a large amount of work to do. He will now seek the seashore and take needed rest.

—One week from to-day will be a lively one for Janesville. The Temple of Honor from all over the country will have representatives here, and Forepaugh's big circus is billed for the same day. Small boys are already speaking for reserved standing room on the sidewalks to see the parade.

—Mr. Mosley, after considerable correspondence and telegraphing, has succeeded in securing Jennie Hight for the Opera house during Jennie week. She will be supported by a strong dramatic company, and being herself an old favorite before the footlights, the troupe will draw well. They will be here four nights commencing September 3.

—There will be a conference of the Methodist ministers of Janesville district at Delavan, commencing September 23. Rev. Mr. Clithero, of this city, will give an address on "The Tramp Question," and Rev. L. N. Wheeler will discuss the question "Is theology an impracticable science?" Other interesting exercises are upon the programme.

—Last evening two enthusiastic admirers of the bulldog variety of purrs were discussing their favorites so earnestly as to finally lead to a little ruffling of temper. The more irate of the two wanted to fight, but the other was more meek and waited until pitched upon, when he laid his assailant low and then went away and sat down by the Union house. The more irate one was teased by some of his fellows about coming out second best, and getting his "ma" up again he went to the Union house and another tussle ensued. The more meek one after being slapped in the face concluded to "lay on McDuff," and very successfully swept up the dust with his opponent, until friends pulled the two apart. Let bulldogs delight to bark and fight, etc.

—Last evening a night blooming cereus bloomed at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Prichard, on Milton avenue. A number of friends were apprised of the event, and during the evening neighbors and acquaintances were coming and going watching the gradual unfolding of the flower. It was indeed a sight worthy of note. It commenced opening about sun-down, and was not completely unfolded until about 11 o'clock. It was not of the more fragrant variety, but its beauty could not be excelled, and its every change was watched and commented upon with the greatest of interest by those privileged to view it. As it would, of course, have faded by morning, it was finally taken from the stem and placed in alcohol to preserve it. The plant is only about ten years old and has for several years blossomed, giving about two flowers each season. This year it has three more buds and another flower may be looked for in about two weeks.

SOLONS OF THE SCHOOLS.

Changes Made in the Roll of Teachers.—Repairing the Buildings.

Last evening the Board of Education held an important meeting, all being present except Mr. Hunt, who was out of the city. The appointments of teachers were revised, this being necessary on account of the fact that some have declined the positions proffered them. The following appointments and changes were made:

HIGH SCHOOL.
1st Grammar—Miss Mary Grubb.
2d Grammar—Miss Rose Hatherdell.
3d Grammar—Miss Clara Drake.
PRIME WARD.
1st Primary—Miss Betella Griswold.
2d Primary—Mrs. Goddes.
3d Primary—Miss Emma Clark.
CENTRAL BUILDING.
1st Intermediate—Miss Jennie Tilton.
2d Intermediate—Miss Mary Wingate.
1st Primary—Miss Martha Willey.
2d Primary—Miss Clara Barker.

FOURTH WARD.
2d Intermediate—Miss Julia Welch.

When the subject of repairing the school buildings was brought up, a number of improvements were decided upon, the most important of which was the reshingling of the roof of the High School building. It was decided to commence this work at once. The roof has not been shingled since the building was completed, years ago, and it now needs it so badly that it was deemed folly to longer delay the matter.

The Board did little business of interest beyond this.

HOME RUNS.

There were a brace of runaways this morning both being butcher's rigs. Hatch's team while out about five miles on the Johnston road, got homesick, and improving the temporary absence of the driver, started on the run for the city, and never stopped for breath until they reached the shop. One of the horses was badly exhausted, and one wheel of the wagon was robbed of some of its spokes. Otherwise little damage was done.

The other team belonged to Cunningham. They took a short run down Milwaukee street and turned the corner by the Corn Exchange and were stopped there. One of them indulged in a lively spell of kicking but did not succeed in doing any damage.

BASE BALL.

The Hornets and Springfielders played a remarkable game yesterday. Each scored 4, and twelve innings were played. Darkness stopped the game.

The Milwaukeees yesterday defeated the Nationals, of Washington, by 2 to 1.

The Buffalos scored 7 and the Cincinnati 1 in yesterday's game.

The Providence nine defeated the Indianapolis club yesterday by 5 to 0.

Rain interfered with the Chicago-Boston game yesterday, the score by innings as far as played being, Boston 1, 0, 0; Chicago, 0, 0.

The Peoria Reds yesterday defeated the Rockford Forest City by 7 to 1.

CHOOSING DELEGATES.

At a caucus of the Fourth ward Republican voters last evening the following delegates were chosen to attend the two conventions:
Assembly—A. McDougal, F. S. Eldred, S. L. James, L. B. Carle, A. H. Sheldon and G. H. Jeffris.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 78 degrees above zero and at 2 o'clock at 77 degrees above. Showery. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 64 and 82 degrees above.

The indications are, for the upper lake region, partly cloudy weather, occasional rains, warm southerly, veering to colder northerly winds, rising proceeded in the eastern portions by falling barometer.

Beyond the Reach of Human Skill.

It is the power to restore the hair to bald heads when the hairs at the roots are destroyed by age or disease; but there are doubtless many persons becoming bald, whose hair by careful attention might be restored to its original luxuriance and beauty. Parker's Hair Balsam is an elegant preparation, designed to meet the public want for a harmless hair dressing and restorative. It acts like magic, commencing at the very roots, removes dandruff and all humors from the scalp, and never fails to restore gray or faded hair to the original color, and the soft, rich and glossy appearance of youth. By its occasional use falling of the hair is immediately checked, and a luxuriant and beautiful growth of young hair induced. The exquisite perfume and the purity of its composition are highly appreciated, and as it is not a dye and does not stain the skin or clothing, it is a growing favorite of the toilet table everywhere. Buy a bottle from your druggist, A. J. Robert's, Janesville, Wis., and test its merits. jysdcedwly
